

Custom Creations by Anntoinette

About yourself and industry background. “Bringing a little bit of fantasy into your reality.”

Custom Creations by Anntoinette was born through a love of fantasy, as well as the design and creation of beautiful things, while having a practical grounding in the wants and needs of life.

I grew up around home dressmaking and would often play with scraps and off-cuts, to create some pinned together design.

Later I began sketching, drawing garment designs and eventually went on to study my Advanced Diploma of Applied Fashion Design and Technologies at the Kangan Institutes 'Centre of Fashion', with Dux of Course for my final year.

It was during my studies in fashion that I found an interest in millinery and so also undertook my certificate IV in Millinery through Kangan, where I was lucky enough to study under some industry renowned milliners, such as Serena Linderman, Melissa Jackson and the late Paris Kyne.

After graduating, I worked for various small fashion companies and bridal milliners, before deciding to undertake the NES program to start my own business. I began heavily developing my own creative style, incorporating elements of fantasy with the styling of 1950's glamour, and practicality of everyday life.

Will you make to order?

Custom orders are great we love making different things. (Items can be recreated to look similar, but will never be identical and depend greatly on availability of materials needed).

Delivery time frame?

Pre made items can be shipped in 1-2 weeks.
Custom made items have a minimum of 8 weeks from date of order and depend on the complexity and materials chosen.
And most importantly, would you like to have an online purchase button on your product gallery screens?
Most certainly.
